

AGUNE - Terms and Conditions of Membership

1. If you are a Network Member, you have agreed to the Terms and Conditions of Membership
2. The information, resources and offers of the network are for use of all network members during their period of valid membership.
3. Confidentiality Agreement - No materials or correspondences, which are circulated or provided for the purpose of use of solely the network members will be circulated among non-members either in digital or in printed form.
4. The contact details of members will not be divulged to any non-member without the prior consent of ASIIN and the member involved.
5. Only member HEIs and HEIs with an applicant status will be allowed in any of the in-person or online events of the network.
6. The member university will take full responsibility of any postings by it on the network site. No responsibility of the authenticity or consequences of the posting lie with ASIIN.
7. We may periodically have to change the terms, but will in any such case inform you about the changes and request your explicit approval for continuation of membership.
8. All copyright and intellectual property rights under international conventions will hold true for the network members.